Description: Flexible cashflow funding for our customers with the Revolving Credit Facility

Funding Options uses award-winning technology to search the market for the right funding options for their customers, and they have an experienced team who are on hand to help. They partner up with lenders who are able to support their clients with funding to meet their business needs.

Funding Options delivers hundreds of millions of pounds in vital finance to thousands of businesses every year to fund cash flow in order to grow, finance new assets or pay off a tax bill. Their award-winning technology searches the market to find the right funding options for their clients. It is therefore quick and easy to use. They also have a dedicated team of experienced Business Finance Specialists who are on hand to support customers with specific questions they may have.

This is one of the reasons that Just Cashflow is such a good partner fit. They too have invested heavily in technology to ensure the funding application is as quick as possible while not forgetting the personal touch. They have a team of underwriters and business development managers on hand to support the Funding Options team in getting their customers the funding they need.

“We’ve had a great partnership with Just Cash Flow for a number of years now, and as a result we have been able to get vital finance to many happy customers.

On one particular occasion, an e-commerce business came to us as they needed a loan to purchase stock upfront from China. Although the business had steady growth year on year, they were still struggling to get a loan from their bank. They needed the cash flow to support and complete their largest stock order yet. Just Cashflow fully understood their position and the need to fill a funding gap. They were able to offer flexibility around the funding terms and were extremely quick and efficient in getting the loan offer to the client, who was working to very sensitive timeframes.

Since then, the client has had a top up from Just Cashflow in line with their businesses growth, and is now looking to renew the facility.

Needless to say, without Just Cashflow's empathetic and agile approach, this would not have been possible. This is just one example of the many successful experiences we have had working with them.

Thank you to the team for being our longstanding partner, and key in our ability to continuously serve our customers well."
